

Kyle Ahlenstorf

Kyle Ahlenstorf, MBA, OTR/L serves as Chief Executive Officer of Infinity Health, bringing more than a decade of healthcare experience spanning both clinical practice and executive leadership. Prior to joining Infinity Health, Kyle spent two years with Hoxie Medical Clinic in northwestern Kansas, where he further developed his expertise in rural healthcare operations and strategic leadership.

Kyle began his healthcare career as an occupational therapist, practicing for nine years in predominantly rural settings. This clinical foundation provided him with firsthand insight into the unique challenges rural communities face in accessing high-quality healthcare and shaped his commitment to advancing sustainable, patient-centered care models.

He earned his Bachelor of Science in Kinesiology from Kansas State University, followed by a Master of Occupational Therapy from Nova Southeastern University. Seeking to expand his impact in healthcare leadership, Kyle later earned his Master of Business Administration with a concentration in Healthcare Administration from Avila University.

Kyle is passionate about strengthening rural healthcare systems through operational excellence, innovative partnerships, and strategic advocacy. His leadership is grounded in a deep understanding of both direct patient care and healthcare administration, with a strong focus on ensuring rural communities have a voice in shaping healthcare policy at both the state and federal levels. At Infinity Health, he is committed to expanding access to comprehensive, high-quality care while building collaborative systems that support long-term community health and organizational sustainability.